Government Ends Delegates Begin To Arrive Here For Convention

Approximately 2,600 Soft Coal Mines Are Returned To Owners Today

EXPECT NEW MOVE FOR WAGE PARLEY

WASHINGTON, June 30.—(INS)—Interior Secretary J. A. Krug today returned approximately 2,600 bituminous coal mines to their owners after 13 months of government operation.

Krug's action was necessitated by expiration at midnight tonight of the war labor disputes act under which the coal mines administration has held possession of the soft coal pits.

Return of the industry to private control occurred amidst a strike-threatened contract dispute with the interior department.

The interior department order, effective at noon, directed operating managers of all mines to display this poster on the property:

U. S. Control Terminated

"Notice—government possession of this mining company have been terminated by order of the secretary of the interior."

The bituminous mines have been operated under the direction of Navy Capt. N. H. Collisson since their seizure in May of last year to end a 59-day walkout by the United Mine Workers union.

Special orders of termination also

Pa News Observes

Mrs. Charles Rowe, Lyndale street, has in her flower garden a lily with 13 blooms on one stalk.

Old Plank road in Nesinnoch township, in course of improvement for several months, has been surfaced with blacktop paving material and is now open for traffic.

Pigeons and several other species of birds are enjoying the seeds sown on the new lawn at an East Washington street establishment. Pa News observed a flock having breakfast there early this morning.

A young fellow, evidently in a hurry, jumped in his car and zoomed away from the curb, over on East street. A spasm of pain crossed his face, and the big green Buick limped back to the parking meter. A flat tire! With his jack and other implements strewn around, he kneeled to do the job while a group of interested onlookers passively watched.

Visitors downtown and in the South Side on Sunday, discovered that Washington street, South Mill street, Long avenue and Moravia street had been decorated with the national colors, preparation for the state convention of the Sons of Italy, convening here on July 2. The colors are attached to poles along the street.

Pa News noted an unusually large group of people gathered at the Mahoningtown B. & O. station on Sunday night about 10 o'clock. It was a class of Jameson nurses receiving a send off from families and friends. A crowd of nearly 200 waved the girls off to Chicago.

Amateur star-gazers, if they were really looking at the stars on Saturday night, should have seen something unusual in the heavens. The planet, Jupiter, feeling a little frisky, cuddled up to the moon slightly closer than has been his habit. Dr.

DECORATE STREETS ON PARADE ROUTE

Delegates to the 19th annual state convention of the Sons of Italy began to arrive in New Castle Sunday night with two young ladies of Philadelphia as the early birds. The two are Mrs. Mary Viola Bates, president of the Women's Auxiliary, Giuseppe Guidi Lodge 683, Germantown and Mrs. Louise A. In addition the property of the organization at the corner of South Mill and Home streets was enclosed with a canvas wall. This to augment the facilities of the club house and yet give the delegates and guests more or less privacy.

Francis Augustine, chairman of the parades committee today announced the officials for the parade. The Venerable of the lodge, John D. Lorenz is the honorary grand master.

Dr. Peale made that observation last night in an address before 5,000 delegates to the 22nd Annual Kiwanis International convention in Chicago. He added:

Unless we learn to think factually and rationally without emotion, it is a question whether democracy can make any progress.

Arrest Two For Plot To Seize French Control

BULLETIN: PARIS, June 30.—(INS)—A French general and a former high French officer were arrested today in connection with a carefully-planned right-wing plot to seize the government.

Police said it was to be seeking to round up other leaders of the conspiracy, many of whom were reported to be well-known military and civilian personalities.

Arrested were General Guillotot, commander of gendarmerie at the French war ministry, and a former officer named De Vulpian, in whose home the revolutionary documents were discovered.

De Vulpian was described as a former collaborator in the Vichy government and leader of a secret network in the pre-war French army charged with detecting communists.

Minister of the Interior Edouard Depreux disclosed details of the bizarre plot in a special news conference.

own front yard, along the street, in the woods, along a stream. Don't think that you are immune, for you aren't. Probably the first time you touch it, you won't get it, but after that the skin is more sensitive, and you will probably begin to scratch.

Guard Against Drownings

"And of course there will be drownings; there always are," said Dr. Womer. Age-old advice concerning this is, don't go into the water too soon after lunch, don't go alone, and if you can't swim, don't go over your depth.

Food poison is also common in the picnic season. Too often the butcher or grocer is blamed for selling "bad" sandwich meat, when all the time it is your own fault. Food that is handled in the process of being prepared is bound to contain germs, and when left in the warmth of a picnic basket all afternoon, the germs have plenty of chances to grow into a nice culture, with the result that people get sick.

And remember, the way you spend the fifth will be determined by the way you spend the fourth.

HOLMES-McCONAHY EVENING WEDDING

Christ Episcopal church in Bluefield, W. Va., was the scene of the marriage Saturday evening at half after seven of Miss Elizabeth Anne Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Devine Holmes, Stowers street, Bluefield, to Dr. John Glass McConahy, III, son of Dr. and Mrs. John Glass McConahy of East Lincoln avenue, this city.

The bride's gown of magnolia net, with off shoulder bodice, off-the-shoulder lines with marquisette yoke set with pearl cluster, long fitted sleeves coming to a point over the hand and full skirt ending in a long train. Her full length veil was an illusion of tulle edged with heirloom lace, which was caught with a tara set with seed pearls.

Given in marriage by her father, she carried a cascade arm bouquet of white Accension lilies and stephanotis.

A bouffant gown of pale green nylon net, with off shoulder neckline, tight fitted bodice and full skirt, with ruffled godets in the front, and white wrist length gloves were worn by her matron of honor and sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Charles H. Scholz of New Castle, whose bouquet was of Shasta daisies.

Miss Elizabeth Nixon of Chattanooga, Tenn., Miss Julia Jones Myers of Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, and Miss Betty Lou Byrne of Phoenixville, Pa., were bridesmaids in identical ensembles of pale yellow nylon net with bouquets of Shasta daisies. Each attendant wore a matching arrangement of flowers in her hair. Little Marea Norwell St. Clair, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Tiffey St. Clair,

TWO KINDS OF GOVERNMENT

There are two, and only two, forms of government in the world. One is based on the proposition that the sole reason for any individual's existence is to serve the state. The other is based on the completely opposed philosophy that the purpose of government is to promote and protect the rights, freedoms and liberties of the individual.

All governments, regardless of what they may call themselves, fall squarely into one of these two classifications. And the titanic struggle for power that is now engaging the entire civilized world is the result of the enormous differences between the two concepts.

It is not an exaggeration to say that the United States is the last powerful state which holds that the right of the individual to live his life as he chooses is the most basic and precious of all rights. This, essentially, is the principle which makes all our institutions—free enterprise, representative government, freedom of speech and press and religion—possible. History has proven a thousand times that the destruction of this right is followed by the destruction of all other rights.

The totalitarian state—whether it calls itself socialist, fascist, communist, or anything else—inevitably ends in oppression. The kind of government which controls the economic life of a country, sooner or later must control all other phases of life. If it tells a man what he must do, where he must work and who he must support, it will also tell him what he must say and think.

The American people must never forget that freedom must be eternally defended. If we are to maintain all the liberties upon which a free society depends. Those who temporize with freedom always lose it.

THE PEOPLE WILL DECIDE

Within the near future, the United States will learn whether or not it is making progress in the war against fire.

The President's Conference on Fire Prevention, which took place in early May, laid the groundwork for the most intensive and scientific campaign to reduce our staggering losses ever undertaken. Some 3,000 delegates, representing every part of the country, attended. An ambitious and all-inclusive program was developed. Every phase of fire prevention activity, from modernization and enforcement of building codes to keeping the public informed of the menace, is involved. It is an emergency program, designed to deal with a real and growing emergency condition.

These delegates are now working at home. Some of their work will be of a technical nature, such as advising on community fire equipment and the training of fire department personnel. But, in the long run, the success achieved will depend primarily on the amount of public support given it. The great majority of fires are the result of individual ignorance and carelessness. A great part of the disgraceful total is made up of home fires, most of which could be prevented. Making America's home safe from fire is strictly a job for every home-owner—no one else can do it for him.

Fire loss—measured in both lives and dollars—is at an all-time peak. We have the means and the knowledge to reduce it to a small fraction of its present total. The American people must decide whether that is worth doing.

SO MANY WORKING MOTHERS

It is something of an anomaly to call "normal" a family in which the wife as well as the husband must work outside the home. The news that in 5,070,000 "normal" families, or one in five, both are in the labor force is not good news, even though supposedly tempered by the observation that the preponderant trend among our mothers is to stay at home, at least until the children are old enough to go to school. This is slight consolation.

The fact is, however, so far as it can be ascertained from an analysis of the 1946 census estimates by the Women's Bureau at least 1,250,000 of the 16,000,000 "normal" workers" are mothers of small children. For so-called "normal" families with children under 18 but over six, 22.5 percent of the wives worked.

This is not a very pretty situation, even though in families where the mother is the head the story is much more serious, with a third of the mothers of youngsters under six, and half of those with older children, working outside the home.

The care and guidance of a mother is needed perhaps more badly in these times than it has been in the past. For some the only solution is to work, but those who don't absolutely have to ought to be at home.

The only difference between hamburger and salisbury steak is the price.

Life is full of little ironies. It is much easier for a woman to make a fool out of a man than to make a man out of a fool.

The metropolitan area of Washington, D. C., has jumped to a population of 1,200,000. No wonder President Truman doesn't think we could afford any tax reduction.

Hints On Etiquette

Being on time for meals is one of the best habits a family can cultivate, for foods are at their best when they are first ready to serve, and consideration for the cook should make one punctual.

Washington Calling

By Marquis Childs

Lovett Brings Liberal Realism

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Words have a tyranny of their own. There are smear phrases which are like old cans to be tied onto an individual in order to discredit him. One of them is "Wall Street banker." It is a tin can used by Middle West isolationists and by the extreme left. You tie it on and then you don't have to do any more thinking.

Robert A. Lovett is now formally taking over as undersecretary of state, replacing Dean Acheson in that post. He is a Wall Street banker. But whether intended as a smear or merely as a description, the label is far from adequate.

There are various kinds of bankers on Wall Street and on Main Street. Lovett is one of a growing number who look realistically at America's responsibilities in a swiftly changing world. He knows that we cannot impose our will and our ideas on the rest of the world either by dollars or by arms. He also knows, as it was put before a congressional committee the other day, that if we let the world go to pieces, Soviet Russia will pick up those pieces.

An Enlightened Capitalist

Lovett is an enlightened capitalist. He has a strong sense of the responsibility which goes with wealth and power. The old public-be-damed exploiters of another era of American capitalism would not recognize him as one of their kind.

Lovett was in France when that country fell to the Germans in 1940, and he came home with a deep awareness of how alone the United States was—alone and defenseless. He came to Washington as an assistant to Henry L. Stimson, who had been drafted out of retirement in those perilous days to be Secretary of War.

In World War I, Lovett had been a navy flyer with what was known as "the millionaires' unit," largely out of Yale University. In World War II, he was assigned to build up America's pathetically weak air

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACH KINDNESS TO PETS

In summertime there are more opportunities than at other times of the year to teach the child to be kind to animals. Thousands of children living in villages, towns and cities go out into the open spaces, even visit on farms. By example and precept, we parents can and should teach children to be kind to pets, birds, and other creatures of the woods, field and farmyard.

Beginning with the tot, let us not give him lowly creatures like frogs and turtles to play with until he has learned when alone with them not to torture them but to be kind to them. Let us strictly forbid him to throw sticks and stones at any living creature. Many farm children not carefully trained will throw stones at farm animals to drive them. City children visiting the farm may do so more readily.

Then unguided children may set the dog on some of the live stock or run down a sheep or pig in hot weather. A child should be taught that if a pig is run long it will die.

Cultivate Tenderness

The boy or girl who has one or more sheep, pigs, or calves of his own to raise can learn to cultivate a real tenderness toward them. Some tragedies arise when the father takes a notion to slaughter one of these creatures for meat. Aside from the consequent disregard of the child's ownership, there may be horrible sorrow for him from having to see the animal slaughtered.

When such farm animals as horses are worked, the father's example of treatment of them largely determines the attitude acquired by his son. In my own case, however, as a boy between 12 and 16, I never quite measured up to the standard set by my father in kindness to horses. When I reflect on those years I feel a bit ashamed of my shortcomings. When, for example, I plowed or drove the horses on other ways in the field I did not let them pause often enough in hot weather for rest and cooling off. I was a bit too much for action, continuous action. I used to object, too, when my father insisted we walk up steep hills instead of riding in the wagon. But as Father always walked at such times, what else could I do but walk also?

Though my father's consideration for horses may have been a little extreme, yet this very attitude revealed something in his character, for he was still more thoughtful of other members of the family when they were tired.

Though a very occasional farmer will treat his live stock with more carelessness than he treats his wife and children, most farmers who are very kind to dumb animals are considerate of fellow human beings. Generally the attitude in a child or adult toward the brute carries over to his family and other people.

CATARRH

People used to have catarrah, now they call it sinus trouble.

The wise men tell us that many thousands of years ago our ancestors walked on all fours. The nose had a natural drainage downward.

When man began to walk upright he had trouble with his nose.

As his brain grew larger it crowded the nasal passages out of place too.

There are several hollow places in the bones of the face and head.

These cavities open into the nose. They are lined with mucous membrane like the mouth and nose.

Sometimes the openings get closed up.

Then there is a lot of trouble.

Dogs do not have sinus trouble much. Who wants to be a dog Bow Wow.

That was it . . . the warmest day so far this summer . . . and what traffic it did bring out . . . and that will only be a small part of what goes on the roads over this coming week-end . . . especially on Friday when the date will be the famous 4th . . . So don't take a chance . . . drive very carefully . . . we don't mean poke along the highways but don't take chances by cutting in and out of traffic . . . and when you want to stop along the road don't forget to pull completely off the improved portion . . . beside being safe it's a state law to not park on any portion of the highways.

Friday is favorably known as the 4th of July . . . celebration time . . . but why not call it by its right title . . . Independence Day . . . and a mighty important day it is too . . . Day the greatest flag on earth was born . . . Looking back over the past few years we have seen the 4th celebrated in several foreign countries . . . France, Germany, Austria and Russia . . . and we have seen some mighty odd looking American Flags too . . . But the spirit was there . . . and the natives of those foreign nations seemed to really appreciate American Men being around.

And while the Flag is in the conversation . . . how many can say with a moment's hesitation the number of stripes in the United States of America Flag? Thirteen is the correct answer . . . sure, everyone knew that . . . now quickly answer this . . . How many of the stripes are red and how many white. Don't peek.

Sometimes we see an item so often . . . know so much about it . . . at least we all feel we do . . . but when questioned we find that our knowledge is not what we think it is. The same confusion arises when you Mrs. Citizen ask your husband which side of his face he shaves first. And you John can confuse the "little woman" by asking which stocking she puts on first.

There are seven red stripes and six white stripes in the American Flag . . . and with the blue field with the 48 white stars superimposed thereon makes the most beautiful flag in all the world.

Bible Thought

A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance; but by sorrow of the heart the spirit is broken.—Proverbs 15:13.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

You came pretty near being lucky enough to miss my column today. The reason? Sardines.

I always used to like sardines. I'd take a piece of toast and smear a couple of nice, fat Norwegian sardines on it.

Then I'd pour some of the oil right out of the can over the sardines, smack my mouth and eat the mess, washing it down with a glass of nice, cold beer (prohibitionists, please substitute milk).

As I have a pretty good stomach, since my ulcers were removed, usually nothing happens afterwards, even when I eat a sardine sandwich for night lunch at about midnight. But this time it was different.

We had weekend company and took them to a very swanky place—the Cobbs Mill Inn in Westport—for midday dinner.

"I don't know whether it was the price of the check or the fact that I had eaten sardines hen with mushrooms and asparagus hollandaise. At any rate, when evening came and the company had gone, we didn't feel like having another big meal. So, my wife made herself some salad, and I got a can of sardines out of the pantry and proceeded in the usual manner.

I noticed that the sardines were tougher than usual and told my wife so.

"They are Maine sardines," she said, "and supposed to be very good. All the women are buying them now. They are cheaper and anyway, it's more patriotic to buy domestic sardines."

Well, I shut my mouth and finished the sandwich.

Usually I go to sleep immediately after I hit the bed and don't wake up until the alarm clock rings the next morning.

But not last night.

It was the longest night of my life. I saw the stars and the moon over and over again.

I saw the dawn and the sunrise, and, regardless of what the poets say, that sunrise didn't look a bit good to me.

I had cramps and felt nauseated, and I walked miles and miles from my bedroom to a certain other room in the house.

And, even now, as I sit at my typewriter, I still taste sardines. Sardines, sardines, sardines.

I never knew that fish can taste.

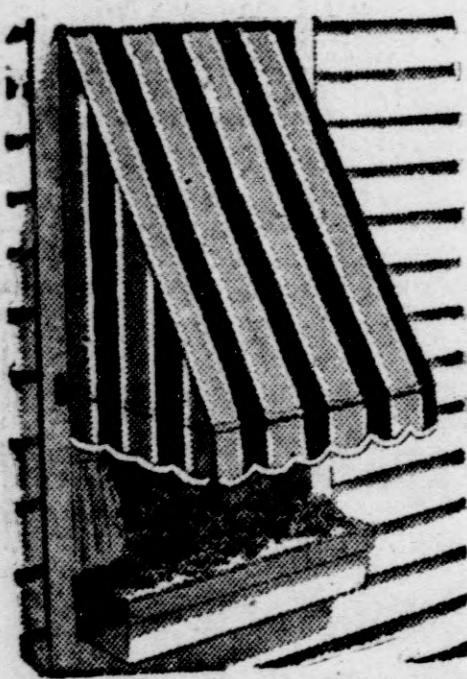

But, those sardines are still talking right inside my stomach. They are growing and grumbling and squeaking and trying their darndest to get out and back to Maine.

Patriotism may be all right—but not in my stomach.

Zelienople Plans
For Horse Show

Rotary Club Arranging For
First Annual Horse Show
On July 11-12

ZELIENOPLE, June 30—The best-known and most scenic country estate in the Connoquenessing valley will serve as the setting for Zelienople's first annual horse show to be held here July 11 and 12, under the sponsorship of Zelienople Rotary club. It is the Hereford Manor Farm, one mile west of Zelienople on the Zelienople-Elwood City road.

Nothing has been left undone by either the Rotary Club or R. J. Cunningham & Sons, owners of the farm, to provide top entertainment in the most pleasant surroundings. An entirely new show ring has been completed and will be lighted by approximately 25,000 watts of light for the evening shows. Seating for more than 2,000 people including box seating for 200, has been installed and one entire side of the large ring has been reserved for ringside parking. A large, sanitary tent kitchen will be located nearby to serve the many visitors.

Spacious barns on the farm have been fitted with approximately 150 stalls for housing and comfort of scores of top prize horses expected to be on exhibition and competing for the $3,600 in prizes.

While members of the local Rotary Club, augmented by many other men of the community have worked many hours preparing for the show, not one cent in wages has been paid out. All profits from the enterprise will be turned over to the Zelienople board of education for the improvement of the school district's athletic field. Major objectives this year are bleacher seating for spectators and field houses for opposing football squads.

Paper Shortage
May Cut Speeches
Of Congressmen

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Congress members may have to cut down on their speech making. That is, if the paper shortage doesn't improve.

The Appropriations Committee informed the House of this dire outlook, and said that the Government Printing Office reports that it is getting barely enough paper to print the Congressional Record, and sees no chance for increased supplies. The officials also told the committee that it costs an average of $71 per page to print the Record.

Local Sailor To Study Electronics

Alexander Csiszer Qualifies To Undergo Technical Training With U. S. Navy

Alexander Csiszer of 608 South Ray street, who enlisted in the U. S. Navy, June 26, for a period of three years, will attend electronics school, undergoing one of the most advanced technical courses offered in the armed forces.

At present he is at Great Lakes, Ill., at "boot" camp and when finished will receive a short leave to visit his parents.

Apprentice Seaman Csiszer will spend 42 weeks in school, and can be proud of his chance to study the latest devices used by the modern Navy.

Applicants for the school are required to meet the regular physical standards and pass the electronics technician selection test which covers math, shop practice, electricity and radio.

Rapid promotions are in store for all electronics technicians, all who finish the course becoming third-class petty officers with excellent changes of going much higher.

Of the 278 tests given through the local recruiting office, 48 have passed. The tests, which is not overly-difficult, is designed to weed out those who have no talent for math and electricity.

However, high school graduates, with background in these subjects and with an interest in radio and electricity are asked to see the local Navy recruiter to talk over this excellent opportunity.

Venerable Bede was an English monk of the eighth century, whose popular name of Venerable is said to have arisen in this fashion: a fellow monk, vainly attempting to write an epitaph upon Bede, fell asleep, leaving it uncompleted. On awakening he was surprised to find the missing epithet supplied by a presumably angelic hand.

force. When Roosevelt named him assistant secretary of war for air in 1941, we had only 2,000 planes and not enough pilots to fly them. By the end of 1942, we had 30,000 planes and the crews to man them.

Lovett had a lot to do with that amazing achievement. He went to work on an 18-hour schedule, with the organizing capacity which is one of his qualities.

New Task More Complicated

It was Secretary of State George C. Marshall who persuaded him to come back to Washington this time, in spite of a recent ordeal with stomach ulcers. Both Lovett and his chief knew the new task is far more complicated. This Wall Street banker will work as hard as he worked before—sure, with a good-humored understanding, that the banker label will be tied on by those who would discredit him.

There are bankers, and not only bankers, but lawyers and businessmen, who would like to restore the pre-1939 system. They give hints now and then that they would not object to the kind of cartel controls that stifled competition and limited production. In Senate investigations and through documents uncovered since V-E Day, we have seen how Germany gained by these controls and how, through them, the Nazis were able to get a big head start in preparing for war.

Such attitudes, when they come to light, give real cause for fear that there may be a determination to restore the past. It is a fear that many Americans feel. They see how, in the pre-1939 era, a few men exercised domination over vast trade areas, holding down the level of economic development for their own selfish interests.

Same Fear in Europe

That same fear exists beyond our borders. It is the fear of many in Europe who are passionately resolved that power shall not be handed back to private cartels. If we are realistic, we will recognize that a genuine fear of our intentions may explain, in part at least, the suspicion of the Russians. It is above all the Soviet suspicion with respect to our occupation of Germany.

In the foreign policy of President Truman and Secretary Marshall, there is not the slightest suggestion of leniency toward the forces that would restore cartels. Undersecretary Lovett will be a valuable aid in carrying out that policy. It is a good idea to look at the man behind the label before judgement is passed.

A READER of this column wrote to the White House and received a reply from Walter Walkinshaw, chief public views and inquiries section, division of public liaison, Department of State, as follows:

"This government's policy towards Germany remains based upon the agreement reached at Potsdam on August 2, 1945, by President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee and Generalissimo Stalin for the control of Germany. The agreement, therefore, takes precedence over the directive referred to by Mr. Sokolsky as JCS 1067 which was originally issued in April of that year to Gen. Eisenhower as commander-in-chief of United States Forces of Occupation. This government has never adopted any so-called 'Morgenthau Plan' for the treatment of Germany and the statements quoted by Mr. Sokolsky in his article appear neither in the direction to Gen. Eisenhower nor in the Potsdam agreement.

Mr. Walkinshaw's reply is not an error. It is literally untrue as I shall show. The evidence:

1. Henry Morgenthau in September, 1944, was requested by President Roosevelt to outline a program for the treatment of Germany after her defeat. Although rightly such a plan should come from the Secretary of State, Cordell Hull, or the Secretary of War, Henry Stimson, it was Morgenthau who went to Quebec with Roosevelt.

Morgenthau prepared and presented a memorandum entitled "Program to Prevent Germany from Starting a World War III." This program calls for completely disarming the German army and people (including the removal or destruction of all war material), the total destruction of the whole German armament industry, and the removal or destruction of other key industries which are basic to military strength."

2. At the Quebec Conference, the following memorandum was initiated by Franklin D. Roosevelt and Winston Churchill, dated Sept. 15, 1944:

"At a conference between the President and the Prime Minister upon best measures to prevent renewed rearmament by Germany it was felt that an essential feature was the future disposition of the Ruhr and the Saar."

"The case with which the metallurgical, chemical and electrical industries in Germany can be converted from peace to war has been impressed on me by bitter experience. The Germans devastated a large portion of the industries of Russia and other neighboring allies, and it is only justified that these injured countries be entitled to remove machinery they require, to repair losses suffered. The industries in the Ruhr and the Saar would therefore be necessarily put out of action, closed down. The districts should be put under somebody under the world organization which would supervise dismantling the industries and make sure they are not started up again by some subterfuge."

"This program looks forward to converting Germany into a country principally agricultural and pastoral."

"The Prime Minister and the President were in agreement on this."

"F. D. R.
W. S. C."

3. A directive was issued in April, 1945, by the joint chiefs of staff to the Commander-in-Chief of the United States Forces of Occupation in Germany, to convert Germany into a country principally agricultural and pastoral.

"The Prime Minister and the President were in agreement on this."

"The Morgenthau Plan was adopted at Quebec."

2. It is the basis for JCS 1067:

3. It was not superseded at Potsdam:

4. It was effective three months ago in Germany when I was last able to check through direct evidence.

Answer that, Walter Walkinshaw!

Large Gains

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

From the figures of the permanent registration bureau in the past week the Republican band wagon seems to be picking up a lot of passengers. Friday's registration in the eighth ward saw 151 Republicans registered and only eight Democrats. In addition 38 voters switched from the Democratic party to the Republican party.

The week saw the largest registration of any one week in a long time. The activity in registration seems to have been brought about by candidates and their friends. All factions seem to have been out working for new voters.

Choosing to speak on the subject, "Having On the Wedding Garment," Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, spoke before a fine assemblage of worshippers Sunday evening, on the lawn of the First Christian church, public square. The excellent weather proved very helpful in the first outdoor service of the churches of the city and vicinity.

Dr. Galbreath dwelt on the thought that back in the early days of the Bible, there was a lack of appreciation even as there is today of the fine things of God. He pointed out that the heart of the religion of life of the home was hinged mainly on appreciation.

In charge of the service, was James Thompson, president of the Lawrence County C. E. Union who introduced Robert Duff, who directed the song service. Mrs. Clark McClelland was heard in a solo number, assisted at the piano by Mrs. Glenn McCracken, pianist, for the service. Mrs. McClelland and Mr. Duff were also heard in a vocal duet.

It was announced that next Sunday evening at 6:45 o'clock, the speaker will be Dr. J. Paul Graham, pastor of the Third U. P. church, day evening, at

The weekly outdoor twilight meditation services sponsored by the County C. E. Union, New Castle Ministerial Association, U. P. and Methodist young people, will continue until August 31 on the First Christian Lawn.

Scientists Warn
Atom War May
Come In 8 Years

PRINCETON, N. J., June 30.—(INS)—A warning was sounded today by Prof. Albert Einstein and a group of associated scientists proclaiming that a full-fledged atom bomb war might break out within eight years.

The atom bomb pioneers said that the United Nations had failed completely in its quest to create a plan for atomic control. They declared the Soviet Union would be a leading producer of the bomb by 1955.

The scientists warned:

"Once stockpiles of atomic bombs have been accumulated by two national blocs of a divided world, it will no longer be possible to maintain peace."

Einstein's group, which is the emergency committee of atomic scientists, said that the UN has been hampered in its efforts to find an effective safeguard because each major nation is trying to place itself in "the most advantageous position to win the next war."

LIVES ON BUDGET

"We're not any different from everyone else. I know I have to live on a budget."

She laughed and added:

"I've got to have a talk with my business manager. I'll have to get an increase in my allowance."

I'm so broke now that unless I get a bigger allowance I won't be able to pay cash for my lunches in the commissary for the rest of the week.

"I'll have to charge them."

Mock Wedding Is
Feature At CampCamp Eastbrook Girls Having Merry
Time—No Parents' Day
Is Planned

Activity is the essence of Camp East Brook. Besides learning to be good campers, they have time for extra-curricular activities in the evening. A treasure hunt, stunts, night and progressive games have been enjoyed, but on Thursday night was the crowning event thus far—a mock wedding.

An altar (a table top, really) was draped in white and adorned with candies, sumac, fern and wild flowers. The bride, Marcia Jean Aquaviva, was dressed in a white gown. Her veil, which looked suspiciously like a curtain, was held in place by a crown of white flowers. The handsome groom was Juliet Perry, and the marryin' person, Leah Schill. A flower girl, three ushers and three bridesmaids completed the wedding party. Miss Betsy Lockhart, as soloist, sang appropriate nuptial numbers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held, where milk and cookies were served.

A parents' day, which has traditionally been held in the middle of the camping period, is being dispensed with this year. Miss McIlvaine, camp director says that too often it causes homesickness which otherwise wouldn't have occurred.

On the last Saturday that the girls are in camp, the parents are invited to visit in the afternoon and see the children's program of activity.

Will Officiate At
Akron Gymnafa GanuProf. William R. Hughes, Music
Director; Miss Jennie Thomas,
Organist

Rev. Thomas J. Jones, pastor of the First Congregational church, has been invited by the committee to preside at one of the sessions on August 31, at the National Gymnafa Ganu (Welsh Singing Assembly), at Akron, O.

Prof. William R. Hughes of Scranton will direct the choral assembly singing at the National Gymnafa Ganu, and Miss Jennie Thomas of Akron will be organist at the event. Miss Thomas is a music instructor at a college in Virginia.

Prof. Hughes left for Wales a week ago, but will be on hand for the Gymnafa. He will direct the singing at two Gymnafa Ganu occasions, one at Rhos, North Wales, another at Cardiff, South Wales. He will also be the commentator at American-Welsh night in Cardiff in July.

Henry T. Jones, president of National Gymnafa Ganu, also states that Prof. Hughes' brother, Atwell Hughes, is program director of the British Broadcasting company; another brother, John Hughes, is one of the adjudicators at Welsh National Eisteddfod (musical and literary competitive gathering) to be held in Colwyn Bay, North Wales, in August.

WILLIAM PATTERSON
OF ENON VALLEY NOW
STATIONED IN JAPAN

WITH THE EIGHTH ARMY IN
KYOTO, Japan, June 30.—William H. Patterson of Enon Valley, Pa., is now serving with the 58th signal battalion, a unit of Headquarters I Corps, in Kyoto, Japan, and has recently been promoted to technician fifth grade as a reward for his excellent services with the battalion motor pool. Kyoto, home of hundreds of Japanese shrines and now detached emperor's imperial palace, was the only large city in Japan that remained untouched by allied bombs during the recent war.

T-5 Patterson entered the army on October 1, 1947, at New Castle, Pa., and upon completion of basic training at the signal training center, Fort Dix N. J., he was shipped overseas. On arriving in Japan he was assigned to the 58th signal battalion where he now fulfills his duties as a driver of heavy vehicles for the 58th signal battalion. Prior to his entry into the army he was employed as a truck driver.

He is the son of Raymond Patterson, also of Enon Valley.

Early History Of New Castle

LOCATING COUNTY SEAT

After the passing of the law to form the new Lawrence county, the sequence of events went like this:

The first happening was a grand barbecue, "flavored with patriotic speeches, the firing of guns, music, and general rejoicing," as history puts it. Nothing is said of what they had to drink, but we can suppose that they had something.

The next outcome of the passing of the law was the drawing of the boundaries by a group appointed by the Legislature. They commenced at a point in Plaingrove Township, where the farthest part of that township points eastward. The same group also chose a spot to locate the new county buildings.

At that time the population of New Castle was about 1600, or eight percent of the total in the county. (Today it is fifty percent.) The people of the townships, fearing that the city dwellers had influenced the commissioners and had something to gain by the choice of the site for the new buildings, demanded that they have a voice in saying where the county buildings were to be put.

The result was that the Legislature let the majority have its way and four prospective sites were picked. The site whose advocates brought in the most money contributed toward the new buildings was the one where they were to be constructed. The farmers felt that anyone who didn't stand to gain by any certain location needn't contribute; this idea worked the other way, too.

When the money was counted after the two-month period, choice number 3 had won with 2400 dollars. Number 2, the original site chosen, had 1600; number 1 had 2100. Number 2, for some unknown reason, had absolutely nothing.

PAULA KELLY, SINGER, HAS 3RD CHILD—A GIRL
GROVE CITY, Pa., June 30.—Paula Kelly, Grove City songstress who has won nation-wide fame singing with the Modernaires and with Al Donahue's orchestra, had her third child in Grove City Hospital late Friday.

The baby was named Julia Ann. Away from the musical world, her mother is Mrs. Harold H. Dickinson of Long Island, N. Y. Mrs. Dickinson is a daughter of a Grove City dentist.

equipment and improved facilities. But the railroads are faced with these problems:

Since 1939 payrolls are up more than 50%
Costs of supplies and materials up 60% Freight rate increases average only 17%

And yet the cost of railroad service to you is less today than it was 25 years ago.

As a result, railroads are earning only a fraction over 3% on their net investment. Most people agree that any business should earn at least 6% if it is to survive and progress as a self-supporting enterprise. Your railroads need the opportunity to earn that 6% to provide you with continued and improved service.

gases described as a thousand times more powerful than present types.

The gases, produced by the same process medical science uses to make disease-fighting radioactive isotopes, are of a type that bore into the tissues of the victim and cause sickness and ultimately death.

The Bulletin said that the work is being conducted at the Chemical Corps School, Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland. The production process was explained as "impregnating known poison gases with gamma rays in an atomic furnace".

Lack of a method of protecting the army's own personnel was reported to be a bottleneck in development of the gases for war use. A thick wall of concrete or lead is required to hold gamma rays.

A year ago Pennsylvania department of education organized the counties and districts of the state to establish centers to relieve the demand on colleges. However, the program failed to be carried to completion in any of the areas.

Oil City again recently attempted to revive interest in a college center for next fall. However, registrations have failed to reach the required number, 35, and there will be no center unless there is an unexpected new interest in the movement.

It's an old American custom

Family expenses go up as fast as family income, and both ends just seem to barely meet. Is that the way it is with you? If so, try this. Tuck a good part (at least 10%) of your income away in your bank account before you start to spend each month. Get by on the rest. It works like magic.

ARRANGE KITCHEN AS RESTFUL WORKSHOP

A clean, orderly kitchen is a restful workshop. There are many types of equipment and supplies to be used and spaces provided for the use of these things. Meals must be prepared and served; dishes, pots and pans washed and stored; garbage or waste disposed of; sink and range cared for; and the kitchen floor given more attention than that needed by any other floor in the house.

Lack of space in which "to put things" is the difficulty in many kitchens. There may be lack of storage space or counter or work surface areas. In most kitchens cupboards or counter surfaces can be added. If the floor space does not allow additional counter surface, a drop shelf can be attached to a wall or cabinet to give more working space.

To avoid an unsightly appearance caused by garbage or waste, a can for such material should be provided. Use of paper for lining the can will keep it clean and sanitary and make it easier to handle the waste. While moisture-proof bags are best, heavy paper from meat wrappings can be saved for the purpose.

It is not necessary to have disorder with the cooking utensils. As soon as they are emptied they can be put to soak in cold water which will enable the homemaker to wash them easily and quickly after the table dishes.

The kitchen also is made more livable by having the right supply of dish towels, holders, and dish cloths and proper places for keeping them orderly. Racks, step shelves, and compartment shelves for knives, spices, and small cooking utensils help in orderliness and save time and energy in handling.

Furthermore, modern types of floor coverings and wall finishes make it easier for the homemaker to care for the kitchen. Soft, restful colors together with cleanliness make the kitchen a delightful workplace.

Crash Off Coast

(BULLETIN)
BOSTON, June 30.—(INS)—An army transport and a Danish motorship were badly damaged today in a crash off Nantucket lightship, which endangered the lives of 78 persons.

The transport St. Albans Victory, with bulkheads weakening, had 24 feet of water in the engine room. She carried a crew of 40, seven soldiers and a war bride.

The motorship, with a crew of 30, received a five-foot gap in the bow. Reports that survivors had taken to lifeboats were found to be wrong by a PBY plane out of Salem airbase. She reported seas moderate, visibility improving and neither damaged craft listing.

The PBM plane also went to the rescue. She carried extra large life rafts, other emergency sea equipment and was fitted with jet-assistance takeoff power for quick flights from the water.

The coast guard cutter Ingham of Boston, the tenders Hornbeam and Spar out of Woods Hole, and another buoy tender from New London, Conn., were sent to the scene. If the St. Albans Victory can be kept afloat she will be towed into Narragansett bay.

Boy Scout Camp

Fifty-six Scouts, Scouting Arrive At Site Sunday To Launch Summer Season

Fifty-six Scouts and Scouting arrived at the Lawrence County site on the banks of the Slippery Rock Sunday afternoon to officially launch the 1947 camping season.

Eagerly looking forward to an action-crammed week in the open, the county Scouts were checked in by camp director Harold Burry, and given medical re-checks by Dr. J. Wesley Post.

William Crowell, waterfront director, then gave the Scouts their swimming tests and grouped them according to their aquatic abilities.

Dinner consisted of chicken with all the trimmings, cooked by Mr. and Mrs. David Myers, after which a retreat ceremony was held in the aera.

The Scouts then assembled in the council ring for vespers, with Rev. R. B. Withers officiating. Orientation talks by director Burry and his assistants concluded the first day at camp. Today the Scouts will commence their regular schedule of planned projects and supervised recreation.

One of the highlights of this week at camp will be a board of directors review, Thursday at 7:30 p. m. with the regular district board of review members presiding.

Any one having business to transact at the school should do so before Thursday.

Braves Climb Into Lead In Winning Pair

Bob Elliott And Bill Voiselle
Give Boston Two Sunday
Games, Dodgers Split

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, June 30.—If the Braves still hold first place in the National League at the end of the season, Boston fans can and will give most of the credit to Billy Southworth.

This veteran manager not only is one of the game's most brilliant strategists, but also has had almost uncanny success in building a winner around players obtained in deals with other clubs.

For example, take Bob Elliott and Bill Voiselle, who were responsible for yesterday's two victories which enabled Boston to regain the lead from Brooklyn. Elliott came from Pittsburgh in the Billy Herman deal and the Braves got Voiselle from the Giants for Mort Cooper, whose only victory for New York thus far was a pleasure cruise with a 14-run margin to work on.

Braves Win Two

Elliott won yesterday's opener with the Phillies, 8 to 7, with a double in the 10th. As for Voiselle, Southworth has said all along that the big southerner still has the stuff which once made him the best pitcher in the circuit. Bad Bill proved it by holding the Phils to five hits and beating them 4 to 2 in the nightcap.

Brooklyn fell back to second place by getting no better than an even break with the Giants. The Dodgers won the first game in the ninth, 4 to 3, on a single by Jackie Robinson, who has hit safely in 16 straight games, and a scratch pinch hit by Arky Vaughan. The Giants won the nightcap 9 to 5 in the eighth inning with a six-run rally that included three homers.

Reds-Cards Split

Babe Young won another game for Cincinnati, his double beating St.
Louis 9 to 7. The Cards then got mad and walloped the Reds 17 to 2 in the second game.

The Cards went into a fourth-place tie with the Cubs, who lost to Pittsburgh 10 to 4. Ralph Kiner and Wally Westlake drove in six runs for the Bucs with homers.

Strong boy Kiner's circuit clout, his 14th in June, left him only one short of the National League monthly home run record.

Yanks-Senators Split

In the American League, Early Wynn held the New York Yankees to five hits and the Senators lived up to their "win for Wynn" slogan by beating the Yanks 5 to 1 for Early's ninth victory. In the nightcap New York beat "Marathon" Masterson, 3 to 1.

The Yankees, however, gradually are drawing away from the field.
The champion Boston Red Sox who lost twice to the Athletics, 3 to 2 and 6 to 5, not only trail the New Yorkers by 4½ games, but also have the Tigers, A's and Indians right on their heels.

Indians Scalped

Taft Wright's pinch single in the ninth gave the Chicago White Sox a 4 to 3 win over Cleveland and dropped the Indians all the way from third place to fifth. The second game was rained out.

Detroit trounced the St. Louis Browns twice, 7 to 5 and 6 to 1, and jumped to third place, ahead of the Athletics.

Rocky Graziano is in New York to visit his small daughter, Audrey who is recuperating from an operation for removal of diseased tonsils and adenoids.

Two 'Champs' And "Ex's" On Docket

Every class in boxing, excepting bantamweight, will be represented on the fistic docket to be unfurled July 11 night at Flaherty field by the Johnson Bronze Employees association. In other words, there will be flyweights, featherweights (two champs), lightweights, welterweights, middleweights, lightheavyweights, which means, speed, class and punch will be on top.

Here is the card as arranged:

Flyweights: Tommy Salem, Cleveland vs Bobby White, Cleveland.

Featherweights, main bout: Eddie Marotta, world's champion vs Ted Friggald, junior champion, Cleveland and Warren, respectively.

Lightweights: Don Shoaf, Cleveland vs Clyde Wagner, Niles.

Welterweights: Chuck Gibbons,
Elwood City vs Bobby Finnerty,
Cleveland.

Middleweights: Sonny Marsh,
Niles vs Bob Redding, ex-GG champion, Cleveland.

Light-heavyweights: Lallo Sabo-tin, Warren, ex-Ohio Golden Gloves champion vs Johnny Swanson, Cleveland.

Heavyweights: Elkins Brothers,
New Castle vs Wayne Brooks, Cleveland.

Heavyweights, Sal Biunelli, novice champion, Youngstown vs Guy Elisco, New Castle.

Plans for the big fistic party were presented today at a meeting attended by Joe Daugherty, president of the Johnson Bronze Employees association; Athletic Director Ralph Gardner and Ed. Fritz, News Sports Editor.

The seating arrangement at Flaherty field will find hundreds of ringside seats available. Chairs will surround the ring which will be set in front of the pitcher's box on the diamond.

Bob Mills will be in charge of the tickets. He plans to set up agencies around the city where postboards for the Battle of Champs can be procured in advance of the day of the fight.

Lupien And Woods Sparking Play Of Hollywood Stars

First Baseman Lupien Bats
In Runs For Pitcher-Pal
Big Pinky Woods

By FRANKE NEILL
(International News Service Sports Writer)

HOLLYWOOD, June 30.—One of the great Damon and Pythias stories of baseball is being written in the Pacific Coast League this season.

This strange friendship started back in the Vermont sandlots, led to college and finally wound up in the big time with the Boston Red Sox.
And today, the boyhood pals who learned their baseball together are teamed up with the Hollywood Stars.

They are First Baseman Tony Lupien and Pitcher George (Pinky)
Woods.

Both Real Stars

Lupien is crowding the leaders of the coast circuit clout-department with a .342 average. Big Pinky Woods is the only chucker in the loop with an unblemished record—five straight mound victories.

During the off-season, back in Vermont, the guys live less than a good fungo hit from each other.
They played together in the New England "Vacation League" while working for their college sheepskins —Lupien at Harvard, and Woods at Holy Cross.

Came graduation, the pals found themselves teammates in Red Sox uniforms.

Didn't Make Grade

They didn't make the grade in the majors and both were farmed out.

Early this season Hollywood was floundering like a catfish on a sandbar. The stars had lost their player-arrangement with Pittsburgh.
They needed pitchers.

Lupien bent Manager Jimmy Dykes' ear with praises of his old buddy Woods. Big Pinky, who stands six-feet five-inches and weighs 225, was dying on the vine at Indianapolis in the American Association.

Baseball History Carved

Dykes listened to Lupien's plaintive plea. The Stars did some fengeling and latched onto Woods.

The rest is carving baseball history in the west.

Pinky's perfect mound record is due mainly to Lupien. When Woods is pitching, Lupien is soaking the apple at an unbelievable clip.

In the five games Woods has won,
Lupien has registered a fantastic
.814 average.

On Hitting Spree

Recently when Pinky carved an 8 to 5 win over Seattle, Lupien paled out a homer, triple and a pair of two-baggers in five trips. Woods gave up 15 hits, but Lupien's stickwork won the game for his chum.

Which might cause some innocent bystander to paraphrase:

"Greater love hath no man than this—that he lay down a solid base hit for his friend!"

Two Auto Drivers
Taken By Police

Police Chief Robert D. Hanna today swore to informations, in which driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated, against Harry Bell, colored, of Scioto street and LeRoy Blashak of Moravia street.

The information was filed before Alderman
James C. Brice.

Bell was arrested when he left his car at a Moravia street and Long avenue after he had been identified

police report by Helen Schepo of Volant R. D. 1 who claims Blashak's car struck the machine she drove at Long and Scioto street.

Blashak was arrested by Policeman Carl Lockard at 12:40 a. m.
Sunday at Moravia street and Long avenue after he had been identified

police report by Helen Schepo of Volant R. D. 1 who claims Blashak's car struck the machine she drove at Long and Scioto street.

Neither time nor any of the tough young guys expected to come out of the war has been able to budge these folks.

Cerdan Is Menace

The most menacing of the postwar newcomers is Marcel Cerdan, the Frenchman from Casablanca.
He, however, is no novice, but a thoroughly experienced product of pre-war days who happened to be marooned off somewhere else thru the years while France was under arms.

The boxing situation abroad is at a new low ebb, which puts it about even with the situation in this country. Bruce Woodcock looked like he had the makings, but he was rushed in against Mauriello and then Baks, and probably is washed up by the two knockouts he suffered against the Americans.
